

National Geographic Society

Research and Exploration Prize

Presented to

Lee R. Berger

In recognition of his outstanding contributions to the increase of geographic knowledge through his accomplishments in the field of palaeoanthropology. In the study of the origins of humanity Prof. Berger has epitomized the Society's mission to seek new knowledge of our world. It is the Society's desire to recognize both his past accomplishments and future potential in one of the most demanding of all the anthropological disciplines